Kurzweil 1000 Quick Reference

All Kurzweil 1000 features and settings are accessible from the menu system. For most of the frequently used features, there are shortcut keys from the keyboard. In addition, many of the basic functions are accessible from keypad keys. This Quick Reference presents shortcut keys, menu mnemonics, and keyboard keys, as well as information about important features and settings.

For detailed information about any function or feature, press Alt+H, then O to Open the Manual from the Help menu. Note that this Quick Reference is also available from the Help menu by pressing Alt+H, then Q.

Section 1. Shortcuts for Basic Kurzweil 1000 Functions.

1.1. Starting and Shutting Down Kurzweil 1000.

Start Kurzweil 1000: Control+Alt+K. Note: For this shortcut to work, you must restart Windows after installing Kurzweil 1000.

Shut down Kurzweil 1000 using the keyboard: Alt+F+X.

Shut down Kurzweil 1000 using keypad keys: Cancel key twice, then the Accept key.

1.2. Turning Off the Computer.

For more Reading shortcuts, go to section 3 Shortcuts for Reading. For Reading features from the menu, go to section 12.5 Read Menu, and for Reading settings, go to 13.4 Reading Settings.

1.7. Recognizing and Reading Currency.

Note: Recognizing currency requires a color scanner.

Recognize and read currency: Shift+F9; opens a dialog. To select a country press Alt+R to go to the Currency list. To scan again, press Alt+S.

1.8. Working with Forms.

Scan a form, choose Scan as a Form from the Scan menu (Alt+S+M).

Note: scanning a page as a form affects one page at a time. This is true even when using a document feeder, in which case, only place one page at a time in the feeder when scanning forms.

Rerecognize a form, be sure you have the desired page open, then choose Rerecognize a Form from the Scan menu (Alt+S+E).

Note: this function will not work if the document you have open does not have an associated image.

If you plan on reusing the form, remember to save a copy.

Read a form: F5.

Move in text: use arrow keys and other navigation functions found in the section entitled, Moving in and Reading Text.

For details on filling out a form, go to section 12.2.4 Filling in a Form.

1.9. Playing Audio Files.

Open and play DAISY Audio 2.02 books, MP3 and Windows Media (WMA) files.

Stop and restart, press F5 or Right Control key.

Repeat Current Unit, F7.

Fast Forward, F8 or Right Arrow.

Go to start of file, Control+Home. Go to end of file, Control+End.

Report current position in the file and time remaining, Shift+F1.

Change reading speed, F11 and F12. To save a desired speed, use Speech Speed in the Voice Settings tab.

If the DAISY audio book has page numbers, use Page keys to navigate.

Section 2. Shortcuts for Dialog Boxes.

2.1. General Dialog Box Navigation.

Help for any control: with the cursor in the control, press F1.

Go to the next control: Tab key.

Go to previous control: Shift+Tab key.

Section 4. Document Overview Shortcuts.

There are three document overview methods: Browsing, Summarization, and Layout Exploration. There are no shortcuts for Summarization and there are Layout Exploration shortcuts once you choose the Explore Layout command from the Tools menu. Go to Section 12.8.5, Exploring Layout, for menu access information; and to the Online Help Manual for details.

Start browsing: Shift+F5. By default, Kurzweil 1000 browses the first sentence in each paragraph. To change browse method, use the Browse Method list in Reading Settings. For more on Reading settings, go to section 13.4.

Skim forward: Right Shift key while reading continuously.

Skim backward: Left Shift key while reading continuously.

Section 5. Shortcuts for Document Navigation.

5.1. Page Navigation.

Go to a specific page: Control+G, then enter the page number. If there are user-defined Preliminary pages, type letter "P" before the page number. For more on setting User Page Number, go to section 12.6 Navigation Menu.

5.2. Cursor Navigation.

Return to and report last cursor position: Control+F5.

For additional cursor navigation while reading in text, go to section 3.3. Moving in and Reading Text.

5.3. Bookmark Navigation.

Go to a bookmark: Control+R; opens the Bookmark dialog. (If shortcuts emphasize Format Editing, use Control+Shift+R.)

The following are shortcuts you can use while in the Bookmark dialog:

Search for a specific bookmark description: Control+F, then enter a word or phrase from the description you would like to find.

Search forward for the next bookmark description that matches your search: F3.

Search backwards for the bookmark description that matches your search: Shift+F3.

Sort bookmarks list: Control+S; sort by Page Number, Subject, Page Number and Level.

Hear the level, the page number, and the description of the selected Bookmark: use F7.

5.4. Phrase Navigation.

Open The Go to Phrase dialog: H; contains one combo box, an OK button, and a Cancel button. It searches for all occurrences of the phrase in the file. If it finds some, it brings up a dialog similar to the bookmark dialog. In that dialog you'll find a number of sentences containing the phrase in a list, arranged in reading order

5.5. Link Navigation.

Select a link to go to: Control+F7; opens the Link dialog. Choose a link from the Select a link list. Press the Enter key to go to the link.

Alt+F, then letter I opens the Find and Open dialog. In the dialog, type the word or words to search for. To change the directory, go to the Look under list, Alt+L.

To use bookmarks to open a file, select the file and press Right arrow. In the Bookmark window that opens, use bookmark navigation to go to the desired one, then press Enter.

Other options in the File Open dialog include: Look at List, Alt+K, to search for File Name or Contents of a file. The Case Sensitivity list, Alt+S and the Match Requirements list, Alt+M. To go to the results list, press Alt+R.

12.1.2. Saving File to Another Folder or Changing File Name or Format.

Alt+F, then A opens the file dialog. To save the file to another folder, type the entire path name in the File Name text box. To change the file name, type the new name in the File Name text box. To save the file in another format: press the Tab key to go to the Format list and select the desired format.

Kurzweil 1000 supports the following file formats: text, WordPerfect for Windows, Braille Grade 2, Daisy, HTML, HTML 3, KES, MS Excel, Microsoft Word for Windows, and RTF. Select the Other option for other file formats.

12.1.3. Saving Partial Document or Range of Pages.

Alt+F, then T opens the Save Partially dialog. There are two ways to save partial documents: by selected text or by a range of pages.

To save selected text as a new document, select the text, then in the Save Partially dialog, press Enter to open the File dialog. Type a new name.

To save a range of pages to a new document, in the Save Partially dialog, type the first page to print. Press Tab, then type the last page to print. Press Enter to open the File dialog. Type a new name.

12.1.4. Launching Applications.

Alt+F, then L displays the Launch submenu, which contains the following items:

Add, mnemonic A.

Change, C.

Delete, D.

Appointment Calendar, M.

Calculator, L.

Photocopier, P.

FAX, X.

Applications that you add also appear in this menu. Alt+H in any Kurzweil 1000 application provides online Help.

12.1.5. Working with File Utilities.

Alt+F, then U displays the Utilities submenu which has three items when no file is open: Copy, mnemonic C. Move, M. Merge and Open, G. If a file is open, it contains the following additions:

Extract Image, E.

Extract All Images, X.

Remove Image from Page, R.

Remove All Images from File, I.

Remove Layout Information from File, L.

Remove Page Headers and Footers, H.

Create Audio Files, T.

Audio Spooler Monitor, O.

Convert Bookmarks to Notes, mnemonic V.

12.1.6. Creating a WAV, MP3 or DAISY File.

Have the file you want converted open. Next, open the Audio File Creation dialog by pressing Alt+F, then U, then T.

If Kurzweil 1000 tells you that your system does not have an MP3 Encoder, Tab until you hear "Get MP3 Encoder," then press Enter to activate an MP3 Encoder via the Internet.

All the following options are in the Audio File Creation dialog.

By default Kurzweil 1000 creates an audio file from the entire document. To specify a range of pages to process, in the Range list (Alt+G), use the Up/Down Arrow to select the Pages option, then use Tab to go to the From and To fields and enter the desired From and To pages.

To choose the Audio Format, press Alt+R and use the Up/Down Arrow key. To specify the Destination Folder: Alt+D. To Browse for the Destination Folder: press Alt+B, which opens the File dialog.

To specify Bookmarks as Separators, press Alt+B. To specify the Bookmark Level to use: Alt+V. To specify Pages per Audio File: Alt+P. For Audio Quality: Alt+A. For Bit Rate: Alt+I and for Sample Rate, press Alt+S.

12.1.7. Monitoring the Audio File Creation Process.

Start Audio Spooler: Press Alt+F+U+O. Opens a dialog with information about Current, Pending and Completed Jobs. You can delete Current and Pending Jobs.

12.1.8. Adding WAV or MP3 Files to iTunes or Windows Media Playlist.

You must have the player on your system to use this feature.

Open the Audio File dialog. To add a WAV or MP3 file to iTunes Playlist, press Alt+T. To add to the Windows Media Player Playlist, press Alt+W.

12.1.9. Converting WAV or MP3 File to DAISY 2.02.

Open the file. Press Alt+F+A to open the File Save As dialog. Tab to the File Format List and type or arrow down to DAISY 2.02.

12.1.10. Sending Files.

Alt+F, then E displays the Send To submenu. When a file is open, the submenu contains: Send Current Document, mnemonic C and Send Other Document, O. When no file is open, the File dialog appears. Select a file, then in the Devices list, select Send To.

Note: You can set up any device that emulates a PC disk drive. For details, go to the online Help Manual, and search for User Device.

12.1.11. Finding Recently Opened Files.

Alt+F, then Y displays the Recently Opened submenu, which may contain names of up to 10 files you recently opened. Use mnemonics 1 through 9 to select which you want to open, 1 being the most recent.

12.2. Edit menu.

The Edit menu is visible only if a file is open.

Press Alt+E, then one of the following mnemonics:

U. for Undo. The keyboard shortcut is Control+Z.

T. for Cut. The keyboard shortcut is Control+X.

C. for Copy. The keyboard shortcut is Control+C.

P. for Paste. The keyboard shortcut is Control+V.

G. for Cut Page.

S. for Paste Page.

A. for Select All. The keyboard shortcut is Control+A.

F. for Find. The keyboard shortcut is Control+F.

N. for Find Next. The keyboard shortcut is F3.

V. for Find Previous. The keyboard shortcut is Shift+F3.

R. for Replace. The keyboard shortcut is Control+H.

M. for Mark a Position. The keyboard shortcut is Control+M.

O. for Format. Has a submenu that contains Font, mnemonic F, Paragraph, mnemonic P, and Case, mnemonic C.

E. for Create a Note. Keyboard shortcut, Control+Shift+Q.

D. for Record a Voice Note.

B. for Table. Has a submenu.

L. for Fill a Field. Keyboard shortcut, Control+F3. Opens one or more in a series of forms fill-out dialogs.

I. for Insert a Signature.

12.2.1. Using Regular Expressions with Find and Replace.

In either the Find or Replace dialog, you can use regular expressions. Press Tab to go to "Use Regular Expressions," press the Down Arrow key to Enable the feature. In the Find and/or Replace With text box, enter your regular expression.

12.2.2. Creating and Editing Tables.

Alt+E, then B displays the Table submenu. To create a table, press mnemonic I for Insert a Table. Type the number of columns, press Tab and type the number of rows.

12.2.3. Converting Text to a Table.

Each row that you want for the resulting table must be a separate paragraph with a hard return. Indicate columns by inserting tabs. Select the text to be included in the table by using the Shift+Right and Down arrow key method. Then press Alt+E, then B, then T to Convert to Table.

12.2.4. Converting a Table to Text.

With the cursor in the table, press Alt+E, then B, then V.

12.2.5. Filling in a Form.

There are two ways to fill out a form after you have scanned as a form, by choosing Fill a Field from the Edit menu, Alt+E, then L, or Control+F3, or, if you have some vision, by choosing Show Image from the Tools Image Display submenu; the shortcut is Control+W.

When using Show Image, you can magnify the image, invert it, read the recognized text, move among the form fields and select or type in responses as you would in when using Fill a Field.

When using Fill a Field, and there are more than five fields, Kurzweil 1000 presents multiple dialogs. To go to the Next dialog: Alt+N. To go Back to the previous dialog: Alt+B. Note: both these actions save any changes you have made in the current dialog.

To move among the fields in the dialogs: Tab and Shift+Tab.

To hear the state of a field: F7. For additional information: press Shift+F7.

To hear the recognized text found near the field: Control+F7.

In a checkbox field, use the Up or Down arrow to select the desired choice.

To find out if a text field contains multiple lines: Shift+F7. To end a line and begin another: Control+Enter.

To save edits in the Form Fill dialog and close the dialog, press Enter. Your cursor returns to the open document.

To close the dialog without saving edits, press the Escape.

To add a signature file, ensure that your cursor is in the desired field and that the field is a text box, then press Control+Up or Down arrow until you reach the desired signature file. Go to the section entitled, Creating a Signature File for additional details.

When you have completed filling in a form, use the Save function to save the document.

To print the image file containing the contents of the fields you have filled out, select Yes for the Use Images option in the Print dialog.

12.2.6. Inserting a Signature File.

You can insert a signature in any document or in any form field. For details on adding a signature to a form field, go to the section entitled, Filling in a Form.

To insert a signature file into a document, place the cursor where you want to insert the signature, then choose Insert Signature from the Edit menu (Alt+E, then I).

12.3. Folder menu.

Press Alt+L, then one of the following mnemonics:

N. for New. Opens a dialog.

C. for Change. Opens a dialog. The cursor is in the Folder tree.

D. for Delete. Opens a dialog. The cursor is in the Folder tree.

F. for Favorites. Opens a dialog.

A. for Add current folder to Favorites List.

H. for Document Home. (Available only if no file is open.)

R. for Properties. Opens Folder Properties dialog.

12.4. Scan menu.

Press Alt+S, then one of the following mnemonics:

S. for Start New Scan. The keyboard shortcut is F9.

P. for Scan Repeatedly. The keyboard shortcut is Control+F9.

M. for Scan as a Form.

R. for Rescan Page. (Available only if file is open.)

I. for Insert Scan. (Available only if file is open.)

C. for Rerecognize Page. (Available only if file is open.)

U. for Rerecognize Multiple Pages. (Available only if file is open.)

E. for Rerecognize as a Form. (Available only if file is open.)

F. for Flip Sides. Opens a dialog.

O. for Optimize Scanning. Opens a dialog.

G. for Optimize Recognition. Opens a dialog.

C. for Create a Signature File.

12.4.1. Flipping Sides for Double-Sided Pages.

This is necessary when using the automatic document feeder but can also be an option when not using one. Scan odd numbered pages first in ascending order. Then flip sides and scan the matching even numbered pages in descending order. Note: the Scanning Mode on the Scanning Settings must be set to Scan and Recognize or Image Scanning Only.

12.4.2. Optimizing Scanner Settings.

Alt+S, then O opens the Optimize Scanner Settings dialog. Settings include the following which are all lists with the options Optimize and Do Not Optimize: Thresholding: Alt+T; Brightness: Alt+B; Resolution: Alt+R; Speckle Removal: Alt+K; Text Quality: Alt+Q; Engine: Alt+N.

12.4.3. Interrupting and Saving Recognition of a Multi-Page Image or PDF File.

To interrupt recognition, press Escape. At this point, you can Save and Close the file if you want to later resume the recognition process. Note: if you want to later resume recognition, do not remove the original image file.

To later resume recognition, open the file if it isn't already, then press F9 or Start New Scan key.

12.4.4. Optimizing Recognition Settings.

Alt+S, then O opens the Optimize Recognition Settings dialog. By default, Kurzweil 1000 finds the best Text Quality and Engine settings. When optimization is complete, press Enter to keep the newly recognized page or Escape to discard it.

Note: Keep Images setting in General Settings must be enabled.

12.4.5. Creating a Signature File.

First, write your signature in the upper left portion of a blank piece of paper, making sure it is not too close to the edges.

Choose Create a Signature File from the Scan menu (Alt+S, then C).

Place the paper on the scanner following directions from Kurzweil 1000, and press Enter to start the scan.

A dialog appears displaying the signature. Increase or decrease magnification in this dialog by using Control+Up or Down arrow. To accept a signature, press Enter. To discard the current signature, press Escape.

Next, name the signature file. If you would rather overwrite an existing signature file, use the Up/Down arrows to select the desired one.

For information on inserting a signature file into a document, go to section 12.2.5 Inserting a Signature File. For details on adding a signature to a form field, go to the section entitled, Filling in a Form.

12.5. Read menu.

The Read menu is visible only if a file is open.

Press Alt R, then one of the following mnemonics:

S. for Start Reading. The keyboard shortcut is F5.

W. for Start Browsing. The keyboard shortcut is Shift+F5.

R. for Rewind by Unit. The keyboard shortcut is F6.

C. for Read Current Unit. The keyboard shortcut is F7.

F. for Forward by Unit. The keyboard shortcut is F8.

L. for Spell. The keyboard shortcut is Control+L.

I. for Increase Reading Speed. The keyboard shortcut is F12.

E. for Decrease Reading Speed. The keyboard shortcut is F11.

Y. Say Selection. The keyboard shortcut is Control+Y.

N. Read a Note. The keyboard shortcut is Control+Q.

12.6. Navigation menu.

Press ALT+T, then one of the following mnemonics:

F. for Configuration Settings dialog.

Y. for Verbosity Settings dialog.

N. for Conversion Settings dialog.

V. for Save Settings. Opens the Settings File Name dialog. Type the name of the file to which you want to save the settings. You can also select the name from the File Name list

P. for Save Partial Settings. Opens the Save Partial Settings dialog. More details follow in section 12.7.1, Saving Partial Settings.

L. for Load Settings. Opens the Settings Files dialog, Use the list to select the file to load.

T. for Delete Settings. Opens the Settings Files dialog, Use the list to select the file to delete.

B. for Backup Settings. Opens the File dialog. Select the desired folder and file or type a new file name.

O. for Restore Settings. Opens the File dialog. Select the desired folder and file.

12.7.1. Saving Partial Settings.

The Save Partial Settings feature makes certain settings available throughout Kurzweil 1000.

After making changes to settings, press Alt+T, then P to open the Save Partial Settings dialog. From the Category to Save list, select one of the settings categories: Miscellaneous, Conversion, Voices, Scanning, Recognition, Reading, General, Display, Scanner Margins, Configuration, Verbosity, and Launch Items. Press the Tab key to go to the Settings Files list and select one or more files to which you want to save the settings.

12.7.2. Linking Documents and Settings.

Link Documents and Settings is in the Configuration Settings dialog (Alt+T, then F). You can reach its list by pressing Alt+I in the dialog. The options are as follows:

Disabled, which is the default.

Scanning Settings Only, which links scanning, recognition and scanner margin settings to documents.

Most Settings, which links the settings associated with the Scanning Settings Only option, in addition to Voice, Reading, General and Verbosity settings.

12.8. Tools menu.

Press ALT+O, then one of the following mnemonics:

P. for Edit Pronunciations. Opens a dialog. The cursor is in the word list. To add a new word: Alt+A. To test the pronunciation: Alt+T. To delete a word, select it from the list, then Alt+D.

N. for New Pronunciation. The keyboard shortcut is Control+Shift+N. Opens a dialog. The cursor is in the Word to be spoken box; type the word or phrase. Press Tab to go to the Pronunciation box and type the new pronunciation. To test the pronunciation: Alt+T.

R. for Recognize Currency. The keyboard shortcut is Shift+F9. Opens a dialog. Alt+R to go to select from the Country list. To scan again, Alt+S.

G. for Generate Bookmarks. (Available only if file is open.) Opens a dialog. Type the subject, press Enter.

T. for What Time is it. The keyboard shortcut is Control+T.

F. for Select Corrections File. Opens the Select Corrections List dialog. More details are in section 12.8.1 below.

D. for Define a Word. The keyboard shortcut is Control+D. To hear the word pronounced using a human voice, press Alt+O (this requires installed Pronunciation WAV files; for more information, go to the online Help manual.) To find anagrams, press Alt+A.

U. for Use the Thesaurus. The keyboard shortcut is Shift+F7.

O. for Recognition Statistics. (Has a submenu when a file is open.) More details are in section 12.8.4 below.

L. for Explore Layout. (Available only if file is open.) Opens a dialog. More details are in section 12.8.5.

Y. for Image Display. (Available only if file is open.) Has a submenu with three items: Show Image to display maximized image, Show Both Image and Text to display split screen of the image and the text, and Hide Image to show only the text. Press the keyboard shortcut Control+W to access the Image Display submenu and to cycle through the three options. To use this feature, the Keep Images option must be enabled in the General Settings. Press F1 for Help. Use F5 to start and stop reading. Use Page Up, Page Down, continuous reading and Go to Page in the image view. When showing both image and text, use Control+Tab to move between the two views.

I. for Ranked Spelling. (Available only if file is open.) Opens the Ranked Spelling dialog. More details are in section 12.8.6.

C. CD Writing Tasks. (Available only if your system has a CD burner and is running Windows 2003, Windows XP or more recent operating system.)

12.8.1. Creating a New Corrections List.

Corrections lists let you apply pre-defined corrections throughout a document.

Alt+O, then F opens the Select a Corrections File dialog. Type the name of the new file you want. Press Enter. Next, press Alt+O, then E to open the Edit Corrections dialog. Press Alt+A to Add a new word or phrase to be corrected. Press Enter. Type the replacement.

12.8.2. Editing a Corrections List.

Alt+O, then E opens the Edit Corrections dialog. Select a word or phrase from the Find list (Alt+F) then type its replacement in the Replace With box (Alt+H). You can also enable Case Sensitivity (Alt+S). Alt+A lets you add a new word and replacement. To delete a word and its replacement, select it from the Find list then press Alt+D.

12.8.3. Applying Corrections to a Document.

To apply a corrections list to a document, open the document, Select a Corrections File (Alt+O, then F), then choose Apply Corrections (Alt+O, then A).

12.8.4. Obtaining Recognition Statistics.

Recognition Statistics provide reports on the performance of the character recognition process. The statistics can help inform scanning settings and optimization decisions.

When a file is open, the Recognition Statistics submenu contains the following items, each of which opens a dialog:

Cumulative, C, for statistics about all the pages.

Poorly Recognized Pages, P, for a list of those pages in the document that were poorly recognized.

Use the Tab and Shift+Tab keys to navigate the statistics.

12.8.5. Exploring Layout.

Be sure Keep Layout Information setting in the General Settings dialog is enabled. In the Explore Layout dialog, a text box contains a brief summary of the page's regions. Press Tab to go to the data table that describes the regions in detail. Use Table reading commands.

12.8.6. Using Ranked Spelling.

Ranked spelling provides statistics that help you assess how much of a file, particularly a large one, is correctly spelled. Alt+O, then I opens the Ranked Spelling dialog. After the message indicating the percentage of the words spelled correctly, use the Tab key to go to the list of misspelled words.

To correct a word, select it from the list. Press Tab then type your correction.

It's also possible to: hear the word's spelling: Control+L; Ignore the word Alt+I; Add it as is to the Word list: Alt+D; Replace All, Alt+A; Search for a word in the list: Control+F; set Properties such as capitalization, partial numbers, and prefixes and suffixes by pressing Alt+P.

To copy the list of misspelled words for pasting into another document, even in another application: press Control+C while in the Ranked Spelling list.

Press F1 for Help.

12.8.7. Writing Files to a CD.

If your system has a CD burner and is running Windows 2003, Windows XP or a more recent operating system, you can find the CD Writing Tasks submenu from the Tools menu by pressing Alt+O, then C. The general procedure follows:

Be sure you have a writable CD in the CD burner.

If you have multiple CD drives that can write CDs, press L from the CD Writing Tasks submenu to Select a Drive, otherwise go to the next step.

Add Files to the queue by pressing A from the CD Writing Tasks submenu. In the File dialog, select the desired folder, file or files.

Lastly, Start Writing the files to the CD by pressing W from the CD Writing Tasks submenu.

To directly write the contents of a folder onto a CD without first adding those contents to a queue, press D.

To obtain status before you begin writing to CD, press S from the CD Writing Tasks submenu. You may hear some or all of the following information: total size of the files, whether or not a CD is in the drive, and how much free space is available on the CD.

To remove files from the queue, press R from the CD Writing Tasks submenu. To erase all the files from a CD, press E.

Note: the selected drive is a saveable setting. For information on Saving Settings, go to the subsection entitled Settings Menu in this guide.

12.9. Online Menu.

Press Alt+N, then one of the following mnemonics. Once Kurzweil 1000 returns results, select the file or files you want to download. All of the features on the Online menu require Internet connection.

Section 15. Keypad Maps

This section provides "maps" of the keys and their functions for the Kurzweil 1000 keypad layers and Shifted layers.

To switch between layers, hold down the Shift key and tap the Accept key until you hear the name of the layer you want.

To access a Shifted keypad layer, hold down the Shift key and a key on the keypad. For instance, after you press the Shift Accept combination to get to the File Management main keypad press the Shift and number 2 keys to get to its sublayer; this key combination saves your file in export format.
